DETAILED ACTION

- In view of the Appeal Brief filed on 6/23/2008, PROSECUTION IS HEREBY REOPENED. A new ground of rejection is set forth below.

To avoid abandonment of the application, appellant must exercise one of the following two options:

(1) file a reply under 37 CFR 1.111 (if this Office action is non-final) or a reply under 37 CFR 1.113 (if this Office action is final); or,

(2) initiate a new appeal by filing a notice of appeal under 37 CFR 41.31 followed by an appeal brief under 37 CFR 41.37. The previously paid notice of appeal fee and appeal brief fee can be applied to the new appeal. If, however, the appeal fees set forth in 37 CFR 41.20 have been increased since they were previously paid, then appellant must pay the difference between the increased fees and the amount previously paid.

A Supervisory Patent Examiner (SPE) has approved of reopening prosecution by signing below.

- Claims 1-15 remain pending.

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-15 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 21, 24, and 44 of U.S. Patent No.

6,628,644 B1. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because:

The only difference between claim 1 of the instant application and claim 21 of the '644 patent is that claim 1 recites "receive a request from the client via the network interface to execute a telephone-related option selected by the user of the client in the graphical user interface," whereas claim 21 of the '644 patent recites "content comprising at least one Hypertext Markup Language (HTML) document for delivery to the client using the network interface, the HTML document comprising a help document viewable using the HTTP client." The instant application claim is broader in every aspect than the patent claim and is therefore an obvious variant thereof.

Claims 2-8 are obvious variants of claim 21 of the '644 patent.

The only difference between claim 9 of the instant application and claim 24 of the '644 patent is that claim 9 recites "receive a request from the client via the network interface to execute a telephone-related option selected by the user of the client in the graphical user interface," whereas claim 24 of the '644 patent recites "content associated with the telephone for delivery to a Hypertext Transport Protocol (HTTP) client operable to receive the content from the telephone...wherein the content on the memory of the telephone comprises at least one link to an HTML document..." The instant application claim is broader in every aspect than the patent claim and is therefore an obvious variant thereof.

Claims 10-14 are obvious variants of claim 24 of the '644 patent.

The only difference between claim 15 of the instant application and claim 44 of the '644 patent is that claim 15 additionally recites "means for storing communication software and content for delivery to the client using the network interface, the content associated with the operation of the telephone." It would have been prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to provide a means for storing the communication software and the content, i.e., memory, so that the requested data associated with the telephone can be transmitted to the requesting user as recited in claim 44 of the '644 patent.
